Ceramics in America 2012
Edited by Robert Hunter

- Late-Nineteenth- and Early-Twentieth-Century Japanese Domestic Wares from British Columbia—Douglas E. Ross
- Early Chinese Porcelain Found in Panama—Linda Rosenfeld Pomper
- A History of Baltimore Porcelain—Barbara Beem and Ken Beem
- New Perspectives on Chinese Export Blue-and-White Canton Porcelain—Leslie Warwick and Peter Warwick
- Ceramics from the Tortugas Shipwreck: A Spanish-Operated Navio of the 1622 Tierra Firme Fleet—Sean Kingsley, Ellen Gerth, and Michael Hughes
- Ceramics from the 1813 Prize Brig Ann, Auctioned in Salem, Massachusetts: An Analysis—George L. Miller
- The Stoneware of Early Albany: A Mystery Solved—Warren F. Hartmann
- Paul Cushman: The Premier Albany Potter an His Stoneware—Paul Cushman

212 pp., 232 illus., 8¼ x 11¼" Hardcover, $65.00 • 978-0-9827722-0-1

Ceramics in America 2011
Edited by Robert Hunter

- The Chinese Scholar Pattern: Style, Merchant Identity, and the English Imagination—Sarah Fayen Scarlett
- Mind Mud: Ai Weiwei’s Conceptual Ceramics—Garth Clark
- Digging Up Salem’s Golden Age: Ceramic Use Among the Merchant Class—George Schwartz
- The States Border Series by Ralph and James Clews—Dick Henrywood
- The Stoneware Years of the Thompson Potters of Morgantown, West Virginia, 1854-1890—Richard Duez and Don Horvath with Brenda Hornsby Heindl
- Ceramic Treasures in Seventeenth-Century Trash: A 1660s Cellar Deposit—Al Luckenbach and John E. Kille
- Cap-Hole Oyster Jars: A Racial Message in the Mud, or, Shipping Ostreidae Crassostrea virginica—Ivor Noël Hume

232 pp., 658 illus. (620 color), 8¼ x 11¼" Hardcover, $65.00 • 978-0-9767344-8-2
Ceramics in America 2010
Edited by Robert Hunter and Luke Beckerdite

- Collectors and Scholars of North Carolina Earthenware—Luke Beckerdite and Robert Hunter
- Slipware from the St. Asaph’s Tradition—Luke Beckerdite, Johanna Brown, and Linda F. Carnes-McNaughton
- The Quaker Ceramic Tradition in Piedmont North Carolina—Hal E. Pugh and Eleanor Minnock-Pugh
- Solomon Loy: Master Potter of the Carolina Piedmont—Linda F. Carnes-McNaughton
- The Dennis Family Potters of New Salem, North Carolina—Hal E. Pugh and Eleanor Minnock-Pugh
- Making North Carolina Earthenware—Mary Farrell
- Making a Marbled Slipware Bowl—Michelle Erickson and Robert Hunter
- A Recently Discovered Moravian Turtle Bottle—Johanna Brown
- A Unique Slipware Barrel and Related Dish: Recent Finds from the St. Asaph’s Tradition—Luke Beckerdite
- The “Hannah” Dish—Hal E. Pugh and Eleanor Minnock-Pugh
- Visual Index to Art in Clay: Masterworks of North Carolina Earthenware

Ceramics in America 2009
Edited by Robert Hunter and Luke Beckerdite

- Staffordshire in America: The Wares of John Bartlam at Cain Hoy, 1765-1770—Lisa Hudgins
- Staffordshire Ceramics in Wachovia—Robert Hunter
- Tradition and Adaptation in Moravian Press-Molded Earthenware—Johanna Brown
- Salem Pottery after 1834: Heinrich Schaffner and Daniel Krause—Michael O. Hartley
- The Mount Shepherd Pottery Site, Randolph County, North Carolina—Alain C. Outlaw
- Making a Moravian Faience Ring Bottle—Robert Hunter and Michelle Erickson
- Making a Moravian Squirrel Bottle—Michelle Erickson, Robert Hunter, and Caroline M. Hannah

300 pp., 658 illus. (626 color), 8½ x 11" Hardcover, $65.00 • 978-0-9767344-6-8

252 pp., 374 illus. (356 color), 8½ x 11" Hardcover, $65.00 • 978-0-9767344-4-4
The Eighteenth-Century New Jersey Stoneware Potteries of Captain James Morgan and the Kemple Family—Arthur F. Goldberg, Peter Warwick, and Leslie Warwick

New York City Stonewares from the African Burial Ground—Meta F. Janowitz

War and Pots: The Impact of Economics and Politics on Ceramics Consumption Patterns—George L. Miller and Amy C. Earls

Comparative Studies in Anglo-American Ceramic Demand—Neil Ewins

Robert H. Miller, Importer: Alexandria and St. Louis—Barbara H. Magid

Ceramics from the "Blue China" Wreck—Hawk Tolson, Ellen Gerth, and Neil Cunningham Dobson

A Monroe Punch Bowl and the American Lithographers in Paris, 1814–1824—Sumpter Priddy III and Joan Quinn

It’s Quarter to Twelve…and Way Too Late—Richard Prowse

A Long Way to Lug a Jug—Ivor Noël Hume

"A Magnificent Failure": Ceramic Souvenirs of the 1907 Jamestown Tercentennial Exposition—Sam Margolin

Fit for a Queen—Ivor Noël Hume

404 pp., 415 illus. (400 color), 8½ x 11" Hardcover, $65.00 • 978-0-9767344-2-0

The American Arcanum: Porcelain and the Alchemical Tradition—Glenn Adamson

A New Classification Scheme for Eighteenth-Century American British Soft-Paste Porcelains—J. Victor Owen

Making a Bonnin and Morris Pickle Stand—Michelle Erickson and Robert Hunter

English Porcelain in America: Evidence from Williamsburg—Roderick Jellicoe with Robert Hunter

A Bonnin and Morris Waste Bowl—Robert Hunter and Jeffrey Ray

Bonnin and Morris Revisited—Diana Stradling and J. Garrison Stradling

John Bartlam: America's First Porcelain Manufacturer—Robert Hunter

John Bartlam’s Porcelain at Cain Hay, 1765–1770—Stanley South

John Bartlam’s Porcelain at Cain Hoy: A Closer Look—Lisa R. Hudgins

Geochemistry of High-Fired Bartlam Ceramics—J. Victor Owen

Catalogue Raisonné of Bonnin and Morris Porcelain—Alexandra Alevizatos Kirtley

Checklist of Articles and Books on Eighteenth-Century Porcelain in America—Amy C. Earls

336 pp., 350 color illus., 8½ x 11" Hardcover, $65.00 • 978-0-9767344-0-6

UPNE Book Partners 800-421-1561 • www.upne.com/series/CIAS.html
Ceramics in America 2006
Edited by Robert Hunter

- Commemorative Wares in George Washington’s Hometown—Barbara H. Magid
- Fragile Lessons: Ceramic and Porcelain Representations of Uncle Tom’s Cabin—Jill Weitzman Fenichell
- Beneath His Magic Touch: The Dated Vessels of the Enslaved African American Potter Dave—Arthur F. Goldberg and James P. Witkowski
- Fluid Vessel: Journey of the Jug—John A. Burrison
- Making Faces: Archaeological Evidence of African-American Face Jug Production—Mark M. Newell with Peter Lenzo
- Ceramics at Hampton, Baltimore County, Maryland—Diana Edwards and Lynne Dakin Hastings
- J. Palin Thorely (1892–1987), Potter and Designer: Part II, Williamsburg—John C. Austin
- Neither “Landskip” nor “Scripture”: Collecting Dutch Maritime Tiles—Ivor Noël Hume

356 pp., 350 illus., 8½ x 11” Paperback, $60.00 • 978-0-9724353-7-6

Ceramics in America 2005
Edited by Robert Hunter

- A Pot of Butter For The Victims—George H. Lukacs
- John Bacon: Prince of Stoneware Potters?—Ivor Noël Hume
- The Destruction of the Benjamin DuVal Stoneware Manufactory, Richmond, Virginia—Robert Hunter and Marshall Goodman
- Rockett’s Red Glare: J.P. Schermerhorn and the Early Richmond Stoneware Industry—Kurt C. Russ and W. Sterling Schermerhorn
- Distinguishing Marks and Flowering Designs: Baltimore’s Utilitarian Stoneware Industry—John E. Kille
- Rediscovering the New Brunswick Stoneware Pottery, ca. 1862–1902—Richard Veit and Judson M. Kratzer
- The Mansion Pottery—Barbara J. Gundy and Deborah Casselberry
- J. Palin Thorely (1892–1987), Potter and Designer: Part I—John Austin

340 pp., 470 illus.(429 color), 8½ x 11” Paperback, $60.00 • 978-0-9724353-5-2
Ceramics in America 2004

Edited by Robert Hunter

- The Swan Cove Kiln: Chesapeake Tobacco Pipe Production, Circa 1650-1669—Al Luckenbach
- Archaeology of a Colonial Pottery Factory: The Kilns and Ceramics of the “Poor Potter” of Yorktown—Norman F. Barka
- Yorktown’s “Poor Potter”: A Man Wise Beyond Discretion—Martha W. McCartney and Edward Ayres
- The Little Engine That Could: Adaptation of the Engine-Turning Lathe in the Pottery Industry—Jonathan Rickard and Donald Carpentier
- The Potters and Pottery of Morgan’s Town, Virginia: The Earthenware Years, Circa 1796-1854—Don Horvath and Richard Duez
- Bernard Leach in America—Emmanuel Cooper
- Henry Remmey & Son, Late of New York: A Rediscovery of a Master Potter’s Lost Years—Luke Zipp
- The Remarkable Stoneware of George N. Fulton, Circa 1856-1894—Kurt C. Russ
- A-Hunting We Will Go! From Vauxhall to Lambeth, 1700-1956—Ivor Noël Hume

356 pp., 392 color illus., 8½ x 11” Paperback, $60.00 • 978-0-9724353-3-8

Ceramics in America 2003

Edited by Robert Hunter

- “Our Home in the West”: Staffordshire Potters and Their Emigration to America in the 1840s—Miranda Goodby
- Highlights in the Development of the Rockingham and Yellow Ware Industry in the United States—A Brief Review with Representative Examples—Arthur F. Goldberg
- In the Philadelphia Style: The Pottery of Henry Piercy—Barbara H. Magid and Bernard K. Means
- Swirls and Whirls: English Agateware Technology—Michelle Erickson and Robert Hunter
- The Talbot Hotel Pit Group—Peter Williams
- Through the Lookinge Glasse: or, the Chamber Pot as a Mirror of Its Time—Ivor Noël Hume
- Taken for Granite: Terracotta Gravemarkers from New Jersey and New York—Richard Veit and Mark Nonestied
- Meditations on a Chinese Musician—Graham Hood
- “Informed Conjecture”: Collecting Long Island Redware—Anthony W. Butera, Jr.

344 pp., 445 color illus., 8½ x 11” Paperback, $60.00 • 978-0-9724353-1-4
Ceramics in America 2002
Edited by Robert Hunter

- A Pot Potpourri—Ivor Noël Hume
- Scratched in Clay: Seventeenth-Century North Devon Slipware at Jamestown, Va.—Merry Abbitt Outlaw
- Antique Porcelain 101: A Primer on the Chemical Analysis and Interpretation of Eighteenth-Century British Wares—J. Victor Owen
- Parian Porcelain Statuary: American Sculptors and the Introduction of Art in American Ceramics—Ellen Paul Denker
- “And Freedom To The Slave”: Antislavery Ceramics, 1787–1865—Sam Margolin
- “The Very Man for the Hour”: The Toussaint L’Ouverture Portrait Pitcher—Jonathan Prown, Glenn Adamson, Katherine Hemple Prown, and Robert Hunter
- Ceramics from the Edward Rumney/Stephen West Tavern, London Town, Maryland, Circa 1725—Al Luckenbach
- Richard Schalck, Stoneware Potter of Marblehead, Massachusetts—Robert F. Trent
- Brown Mugs and Jugs: A Personal Foray into the Field of Collecting—James Glenn

308 pp., 346 color illus., 8½ x 11" Paperback, $60.00 • 978-0-9724353-0-7

Ceramics in America 2001
Edited by Robert Hunter

- Potsherds and Pragmatism: One Collector’s Perspective—Ivor Noël Hume
- Magical, Mythical, Practical, and Sublime: The Meanings and Uses of Ceramics in America—Ann Smart Martin
- European Ceramics in the New World: The Jamestown Example—Beverly Straube
- “The Usual Classes of Useful Articles”: Staffordshire Ceramics Reconsidered—David Barker
- Dots, Dashes, and Squiggles: Early English Slipware Technology—Michelle Erickson and Robert Hunter
- Slip Decoration in the Age of Industrialization—Don Carpentier and Jonathan Rickard
- How Creamware Got the Blues: The Origins of China Glaze and Pearlware—George L. Miller and Robert Hunter
- American Queensware—The Louisville Experience, 1829-1837—Diana and J. Garrison Stradling
- An Adventure with Early English Pottery—Troy D. Chappell

312 pp., 328 color illus., 8½ x 11" Paperback, $60.00 • 978-1-58465-133-8