

U·P·N·E

University Press of New England

www.upne.com

(800) 421-1561

CIVIL SOCIETY

Historical & Contemporary Perspectives
An Interdisciplinary Book Series

Tufts
UNIVERSITY

Jonathan M. Tisch
College of Citizenship and Public Service

NEW in the Civil Society Series

Cloth, $50.00 • 312 pp., 3 illus.
978-1-58465-721-7

Smallville

Institutionalizing Community in Twenty-First-Century America

Carl Milofsky

A path-breaking study of organizational dynamics in community movements and in small, local, nonprofit organizations

“Using carefully accumulated and meticulously analysed case studies of associations and small nonprofits, Dr. Milofsky succeeds well in throwing new theoretical light onto the hitherto neglected area of community-level organizational challenges. This book will be warmly welcomed by both students and practitioners of grassroots public action.”

—Margaret Harris, Ph.D., Professor Emeritus, Aston University; Visiting Professor, Birkbeck University of London; Academic Adviser to the Institute for Voluntary Action Research (IVAR) www.ivar.org.uk

To learn more about these books and others in the Civil Society Series log onto:
www.upne.com/series/series\_index.html

Cloth, $35.00 • 320 pp., 9 illus., 2 tables
978-1-58465-723-1

Uncharitable

How Restraints on Nonprofits Undermine Their Potential

Dan Pallotta

A courageous call to free charity from its ideological and economic constraints

“Uncharitable is the most courageous and necessary of all of the recent books that have been written about philanthropy and the nonprofit sector.”

—Bill Shore, Founder & Executive Director,
Share Our Strength

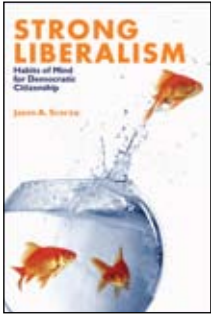

“Dan Pallotta has written the clearest and most articulate critique I have read of the system of values that our charities and other nonprofit organizations are supposed to follow. He explains in graphic detail how these values undercut what charities are trying to do and prevent them from accomplishing all that they might. Not everyone may agree with his position, but the nonprofit world will surely benefit from a vigorous discussion of his arguments.”

—Derek Bok, former President of Harvard University

“This is nothing less than a revolutionary work.”

—Gary Hart, former United States Senator, and Scholar in Residence, University of Colorado

Recent Titles in the Civil Society Series

Strong Liberalism

Habits of Mind for Democratic Citizenship

Jason Scorza

Timely, sophisticated, practical directives for a stronger and more secure liberalism

“Strong Liberalism is a rigorous and gracefully written essay on one of the central dilemmas in the theory and practice of free societies. . .Scorza weaves a path through the horns of this dilemma with ingenuity, wit, and a remarkable breath of scholarship.”

—Eamonn Callan, Pigott Family Professor in the School of Education,
Stanford University

Cloth, $50.00 • 302 pp. • 978-1-58465-665-4

Acting Civically

From Urban Neighborhoods to Higher Education

Susan A. Ostrander and Kent E. Portney, editors

New multidisciplinary scholarship on civic engagement in America

“Acting Civically is grounded in careful analyses of a set of highly significant efforts to foster civic participation by Tufts University and local urban communities in the Boston area. . .The volume offers challenging analyses of the hard issues of race, class and gender that any university or urban community will face when undertaking serious work for social change. . .”

—Mark Warren, Associate Professor, Harvard Graduate School of Education

Paper, $29.95 • 224 pp. • 978-1-58465-661-6

The Future of Democracy

Developing the Next Generation of American Citizens

Peter Levine

A nonpartisan clarion call for civic renewal to restore American democracy

“Levine’s book is a little gem that I will keep on my bookshelf, close at hand. . . Without taking more aggressive steps as a nation to put our country’s civic health on the national radar screen. . .the future of that democracy looks grim. Levine finds innovative ways at all levels of education and governance to rescue it.”

—John M. Bridgeland, Former Director, White House
Domestic Policy Council & USA Freedom Corps

Cloth, $27.95 • 308 pp. • 978-1-58465-648-7

More Titles in the Civil Society Series

Women, Philanthropy and Social Change

Visions for a Just Society

Elayne Clift, editor

The definitive book on women and philanthropy—essential reading for scholars, students, donors, grantees, and philanthropists

“This collection of essays is designed to show the hidden history of women’s involvement in the nonprofit world and discusses how women are using philanthropy to achieve social change.”

— The Chronicle of Philanthropy

Paper, $22.95 • 316 pp. • 978-1-58465-523-7

Civic Agriculture

Reconnecting Farm, Food, and Community

Thomas A. Lyson

An analysis of food production in the United States emphasizing that sustainable agricultural development is important to community health

“This book is a wonderful addition for those interested in food and our communities . . . It should be read by anyone concerned about the growing physical and emotional distance between producers and eaters.”

— Michael W. Hamm, C.S. Mott Professor of Sustainable Agriculture, Michigan State University

Paper, $17.95 • 160 pp. • 978-1-58465-414-8

Civic Literacy

How Informed Citizens Make Democracy Work

Henry Milner

A comparative, international analysis of political participation and the decline in civic engagement

“Henry Milner offers a welcome breath of fresh air to the debates on social capital and civic engagement by focusing comparative attention on the difference that political institutions and policies make, and by exploring the relationship of civic literacy to egalitarian social outcomes in the major democracies.”

— Carmen Sirianni, Author, Civic Innovation in America

Paper, $21.95 • 256 pp. • 978-1-58465-173-4

More Titles in the Civil Society Series

Beyond Tocqueville

Civil Society and the Social Capital Debate in Comparative Perspective

Bob Edwards, Michael W. Foley, Mario Diani, editors

An interdisciplinary collection of historical and comparative articles

“This important and well-edited volume is must reading for anyone with a serious interest in questions of democratic participation and civil society.”

—Suzanne Staggenborg, McGill University

Paper, $28.00 • 352 pp. • 978-1-58465-125-3

Challenges for Nonprofits and Philanthropy

The Courage to Change

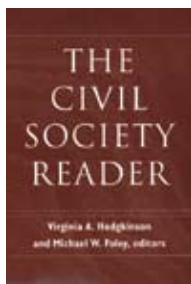

*Pablo Eisenberg
Stacy Palmer, editor*

An indispensable collection of writings by one of contemporary philanthropy's most influential and outspoken voices

“Whether you agree with him or not, this important collection of essays truly captures Pablo Eisenberg’s passion and long-standing personal vision for the present—and the future—of the nonprofit sector and American philanthropy.”

—William S. White, President, Charles Stewart Mott Foundation

Cloth, $29.95 • 264 pp. • 978-1-58465-421-6

The Civil Society Reader

Virginia Hodgkinson and Michael W. Foley, editors

A “civil society” anthology for experts and students alike

The authors have assembled a definitive collection of 24 readings from the writings of thinkers who have shaped the civil society tradition in Western political thought through the ages. Civil Society: A Reader is the essential historical and theoretical text.

Paper, $28.00 • 384 pp. • 978-1-58465-278-6

From Neighborhood to Nation

The Democratic Foundations of Civil Society

Ken Thomson

A study of the impact of participatory and representative democracy on policy outcomes at local, state, and national levels

Paper, $22.95 • 207 pp. • 978-1-58465-105-5

TO ORDER ANY OF THESE TITLES PLEASE CALL 1-800-421-1561
OR GO TO: www.upne.com

W

hat is the meaning and nature of “civil society”—that arena of action between home and family on one side and for-profit enterprise and government agency on the other? In Civil Society: Historical and Contemporary Perspectives, a Tufts University Press series, scholars and practitioners from the nonprofit and government sectors seek to enhance our understanding of and engage in critical thinking on such themes of compelling interest as citizen activism, neighborhood and community associations, philanthropy, and education for civic engagement.

Please send proposals and manuscript submissions to any of our series editors:

Phyllis Deutsch

Editor-In-Chief
University Press of New England
One Court Street, Suite 250
Lebanon, NH 03766
Phyllis.Deutsch@Dartmouth.edu

Virginia A. Hodgkinson

Graduate Public Policy Program
Georgetown University
3240 Prospect Street
Washington DC 20007

Kent E. Portney

Department of Political Science
Tufts University
Eaton Hall
Medford, MA 02155

John C. Schneider

Scholarly Publications Consultant and Adjunct Senior Lecturer in History
Jonathan M. Tisch College of Citizenship and Public Service
Tufts University
Medford, MA 02155

EDITORIAL ADVISORY BOARD

Helmut Anheier	University of Heidelberg
L. David Brown	Harvard University
Julie Fisher	Charles F. Kettering Foundation
Cynthia Gibson	Cynthesis Consulting
Stanley N. Katz	Princeton University
Susan Ostrander	Tufts University
James Allen Smith	Rockefeller Archive Center
Susan Stroud	Innovations in Civic Participation

U·P·N·E

University Press of New England • One Court Street, Suite 250,
Lebanon, NH 03766 • www.upne.com • (800) 421-1561